DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of Group I in the reply filed on 7/29/09 is acknowledged. However, as a result of Applicant's amendment to claims 1-14 and 17-21, it is noted that Group II is now part of Group I. Furthermore, it is noted that claims 24-26 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to as being drawn to a nonelected invention and that the election is elected without traverse because Applicant presented no reasons explaining why the restriction requirement is improper. Therefore, the restriction requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 4,6,12,18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 4, the phrase "the predetermined threshold value is independent of an operating vacuum" is confusing since there are no definitions as to what " the predetermined threshold value" and "an operating vacuum" defines and/or implies.

In claim 6, the phrase "the predetermined threshold value is influenced by the biasing element" is confusing because it is unclear as to what the term "influenced" defined and/or intends to be encompassed.

In claim 12, the phrase "the sensor element is contactless" is confusing because it is unclear as to what the term "contactless " defined and/or intends to be encompassed.

In claim 18, the phrase "permits air to flow from a rapid ventilation aperture" confusing because it is unclear as to what "rapid ventilation aperture" defined and/or intends to be encompassed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Great Britain Patent 1481674 (GB'674).

GB'674 discloses a milking machine unit cylinder comprising:

a flexible element (5);

at least one sensor element (18) which detects a substantial weight on the flexible element to trigger a start signal for a milking process (as shown in Figure 2, it is noted that the movement of cylinder (1) causes some sort of pull/tension/weight on the flexible element (5) and that sensor (18) detects the pull/tension/weight on the flexible element and triggers the milking process, (see lines 66-90)); and a rapid ventilation valve (17) in communication with the sensor element (it is noted that there must be some sort of connection/communication between valve (17) and sensor (18) since lines 66-70 indicates that the switch/sensor (18) opens or closes the valve (17)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2-14, and 17-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Great Britain Patent 1481674 (GB'674).

With respect to all the specific components as claimed in claims 2-14, and 17-21. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the cylinder of GB'674 so as to include all the specific components as claimed, in order to provide a more versatile and efficient milking unit cylinder and thus improve the overall milking operation.
